

2. Mr. Sourwine, of the staff of the Senate Judiciary Committee, called to state that they would like to have returned to them the copy of the transcript of the Davies case which they loaned to CIA, and the transmittal of which they had authorized to the Department of State. Mr. Sourwine stated that he felt there was still outstanding a request from the Senate Internal Security Subcommittee to CIA for an edited copy of the test which could be published if necessary. He stated that he did not envisage any current publication but that the request should be answered in some form. I have discussed this matter with [redacted] the Deputy Security Officer, who has been designated by the Director as the man to cooperate with the Department of State in reviewing the hearing file in the case in order to assist the State Department which is considering releasing at least some portion of the over-all hearing in the case.
